

AABP POSITION STATEMENT

AABP Aminoglycoside Use in Cattle Statement

The American Association of Bovine Practitioners does not support the extra-label use of aminoglycosides in cattle due to the substantial risk for violative residues in food products associated with the prolonged elimination of aminoglycosides.

Approved by the AABP Board of Directors, December 1994

*Updated and approved by the AABP Board of Directors, September 2005

*Revised by the CPBI Committee and approved by the AABP Board of Directors, October 2016

*Updated and approved by the AABP Board of Directors, February 2023